Cookie Notice

Contents

Cookie Notice

This notice is designed to help you understand how Amey uses cookies. This notice should be read in conjunction with our privacy notice.

We encourage you to read the whole notice. Alternatively, if you wish to read about specific cookie practices that interest you, please click on the relevant links below.

The purpose of this cookie notice

Identity

We are Amey plc (registered office: The Sherard Building, Edmund Halley Road, Oxford, OX4 4DQ, United Kingdom), and its subsidiary companies.

Our use of cookies

We are a leading provider of public services, primarily in the UK but also in other countries.

In common with most businesses, we use cookies to help us provide our services and run our business.

This cookie notice

This is our main general cookie notice that applies across our business, although we may publish additional cookie statements that apply to:

- our operations in specific countries in order to help ensure our compliance with local data protection requirements around cookies
- specific services that we offer

Updating this cookie notice

This notice may be updated from time to time. This version is dated 30th September 2018.

Cookies

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer, mobile phone or tablet by web sites that you visit or by clicking on a link to a site within an email. They are widely used in order to make web sites work, or work more efficiently, as well as to provide information to website owners.

What type of cookies do we use?

We use cookies to:

- remember your browsing preferences when you visit our sites so that we can give you a better site experience
- collect anonymous statistical information about the way you use our websites and their content so that we can improve the way the sites work and the content we make available (for example, we collect information about the number of visitors to the various parts of the sites)
- track how you interact with the updates and marketing materials we send you

The cookies we use are non-intrusive and are used by most businesses.

Can I control the use of cookies on my device?

Most web browsers (including Chrome, Internet Explorer, Firefox and Safari) allow you to control your cookie settings and to delete any cookies already stored on your computer or other devices.

You can control the use of cookies on your device, including deleting and blocking the cookies we and others use, through the browser settings on your device; but please note that any changes you make may affect your ability to properly use our websites.

To find out more about the way cookies work, how to see what cookies have been set and how to manage and delete them, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

In line with most businesses, we use Google Analytics (see below for details). To opt out of being tracked by Google Analytics across all websites visit http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout.

Cookies we use

What cookies do we use and why?

The information box below describes the cookies that we use and why we use them.

Cookie	File name	How long will the cookie stay on my device?	Purpose
Content Management	UMB-XSRF-TOKEN UMB-XSRF-V UMB_UCONTEXT UMB_UCONTEXT_C	Normally 20 minutes.	Essential cookies Some functions of the website depend on these cookies and may not work properly, or at all, if they are disabled.
Cookie Preferences	cookiePolicySettings	6 months.	Functional cookies Stores a visitors preferences with regard to the setting of cookies.
AddThis	__atuvc __atuvs bt2 di2 loc mus na_id na_tc ouid ssc ssh sshs uid uvc vc	Normally less than 1 year.	Functional cookies
Google Analytics	_utma	2 years from set/update*	Performance cookies These cookies are used to collect information about your use of the site and to track how you interact with our marketing activities. We use the information to compile reports and to help us improve our sites and our marketing activities. These cookies collect information, including the number of visitors to the site, where visitors have come to _utmb	30 minutes from set/update*
	_utmc	Until you close your browser*
	_utmt	10 minutes years from set/update*
	_utmz	6 months from set/update*

			the site from and the pages they visited.
			Note that Google will also have its own control of this information, and will hold it on its servers in the United States in accordance with its own privacy policies You can find out more about Google Analytics and privacy at Google by clicking here.

*Please click here for more information on how these cookies are managed by Google.

What personal information do we look to collect using cookies?

We collect only limited amounts of personal information as part of our use of cookies, such as IP addresses. In particular, we do not look to collect special categories of personal data (such as health data) or criminal convictions data through our use of cookies.

Other important things you should know

Local differences

Whilst this notice describes the cookie practices adopted by us generally across the world, local data protection laws vary and some countries may place additional restrictions on our use of cookies. This means our actual cookie practices in certain countries may vary from those described here in order to help us ensure we comply with local requirements. Country-specific differences in our cookies practices to help us comply with local requirements can be found here.]

All our websites are UK based.

Data protection manager

We have a data protection manager whose job is to oversee our data protection compliance, which includes our compliance with laws relating to how we use cookies. You can contact our data protection manager by sending:

an email to: informationgovernance@amey.co.uk

a letter to: a letter to: Information Governance team, Amey, Unit 4, The Matchworks, Speke Road Liverpool L19 2PH